ALL SORTS.

Stocks were a shade off yesterday. The Glee Club returned from Hawthorne on last evening's train.

The loss by the late cyclone at Little Rock, Ark., is placed at $1,500,000.

The Mongols about Carson are disgusted with the war news from the old country.

The Capitol Restaurant is doing a fine business and giving satisfaction to its patrons.

Leslie Ross left on last evening's train to accept a position as fireman on the C. P. in the eastern part of the State.

Frank Oliver who has been purser on the steamer Meteor at the Lake this summer is back in this city, the season being over.

The weather is simply incomparable in its perfection and about 20 per cent ahead of any Italian weather anybody ever saw.

More War Clouds.

Antaravia, Madagascar, Oct. 3.—A blockade of the ports of the island of Madagascar has been proclaimed by France. The Resident General has gone to Tamative. He has been instructed to take measures to protect colonists in the event of war.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs denies that a blockade of Madagascar has been proclaimed by France. The Minister of Marine declares that before such a step could be taken the European powers would have to be informed of the intention of France.

London, Oct. 3.—The Stock Exchange today closed flat on rumors regarding the cause of the calling of a special Cabinet council for tomorrow.

Paris, Oct. 3.—Securities on the Bourse were not affected by war rumors. Stocks closed firm.

Sullivan's Dream of Peace.

John L. Sullivan announces that he will give up the stage after this season.

"This is my last year on the stage," he said recently. "I have a little farm of eighty acres, 100 miles out of Boston, stocked with sixteen or eighteen Holstein cattle and four bulls and a lot of sheep; and if you ever come out to that farm years from now you'll see a big, fat man enjoying life, with a lot of children running around the yard. That man will be John L. Sullivan, once a noted prize-fighter, I'm tired of this traveling about the country. How do I know where I'm going when I get on the train?"

McDonald Must Plead.

San Francisco, Oct. 3.—R. H. McDonald of Pacific Bank, notoriety was represented in the Supreme Court this morning by his lawyer and physician, both of whom alleged that McDonald is suffering from brain fog or nervous prostration, and that he is also troubled by an attack of erysipelas in a pronounced form. Judge Murphy, however, ordered McDonald to be brought into court next Monday to plead to a charge of perjury for having made false returns to the Bank Commissioners.

An Oakland Disaster.

Oakland, Oct. 2.—A local train on the Narrow Gauge railway this evening left the track near the drawbridge. One car broke the coupling and rolled down the bank into the creek below. Sixty passengers were in the coach at the time. Two passengers were killed and a number badly injured. P. J. Kelly, a ticket agent for the Denver & Rio Grande, was one of the passengers killed and M. G. Simmons, a carriage painter of Oakland is missing.

HERE'S RICHNESS.

How the Enterprise Job Office is After Patronage.

Virginia, Nev., Sept. 30, 1894. L. F. Dunn, County Clerk, Winnemucca, Nevada.—Dear Sir: I take the liberty in writing to you in regard to the printing of official and sample ballots to be used in the coming election, and also tally sheets and other supplies necessary thereto.

The law relative thereto requires the ballots to be printed in the state, and in the county, if possible.

As there is no press in the state large enough to properly print the entire ballot, except the one owned by me, I deemed it advisable to inform you.

There is a possibility of San Francisco printers trying to get some of this work by working through local printers. As the ballot will be 26 by 35, and the tally sheets fully as large, I know that there is no press in this state, except mine, capable of handling the work.

Trusting that you will favor me with the order for the ballots of your county, and guaranteeing as perfect work as can be done in San Francisco, I remain, Yours truly,

J. E. McKinnon.

Publisher Territorial Enterprise.

The above letter will explain itself.

For unadulterated gall it takes the cake.

To our personal knowledge the very gentleman who signs the letter in '92 went to San Francisco as a special agent for the Enterprise, he at that time being a printer on that paper, and had the Storey county ballot work done there. The Silver State in '92 printed the ballots of this county and Elko county completely and did better work than was done in San Francisco, and is prepared to do the same again this year.

It was the only newspaper office in the state that did the work completely and we defy the Enterprise man to prove to the contrary. The Silver State can not only print a ballot 26 by 36, but can print it 48 by 48 if need be. It is ten chances to one that he will have the work done in San Francisco this year, as the Enterprise did in '92, if he gets any orders, which we much doubt, as every party counties are not going near printing to golding newspapers just yet awhile.—Silver State.

The Silver State don't quite understand the real milk in the coconut.

The APPEAL has always understood that the Enterprise job office is a separate institution to the Enterprise newspaper, the newspaper being run by McKinnon, and the job office by Sutherland.

If this is true, tickets printed at the Enterprise job office will not be legal as the law distinctly provides that the Australian ballots must be printed at "a newspaper office within the county" etc.

We think the inside of the scheme as that McKinnon has signed the letter from the Enterprise job office, in the hope to pull it inside the law. There are several offices in the state that can print an Australian ballot 26 by 36. The APPEAL can print one 42 by 48 if necessary.

On His Ear.

George Mills came into the APPEAL office yesterday morning, with blood in his eye and demanded to see the editor.

He said several blasted lies had been circulated by the APPEAL, and he wanted an immediate retraction.

The article was produced and it turned out that Mr. Mills had not seen the article in question but George Bryson and Hume Yerington had told him in the most solemn manner imaginable that the APPEAL had accused him of a shortage in his accounts and numerous other bad things.

What the APPEAL did say was that Mr. Mills was a pleasant gentleman and as handsome as a picture but would not be Senator.

After reading the article Mills subscribed for the paper and went off to hunt Bryson and Yerington with a club.

From the Orient.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch from Shanghai says the Governor of Kienin, Manchuria, reports that the Japanese have effected a landing in the rear of Lan Chung. It is added that the whole province is in a state of consternation, but measures for its defense are being adopted. Another levy has been made upon Chinese merchants to meet the expenses of war.

Dempsey's saloon is to be called "The Temple." Religious services begin at 8 o'clock.

ON THE WARPATH.

Joe Garavito's After-Bedlette's Scalp.

On Wednesday evening Joe Garavito went to his room in the Italian quarters and looked about for his wife. She was not there.

He soon afterwards learned that she had slipped over the fence and with a countryman named Bartlett, a woodchopper who lived a few doors away. He also found that in addition to taking the woman that he had also taken Joe's trunk, wearing apparel and clothes.

Some of the neighbors say they saw a Chinaman drive up to the house and get the things.

Joe at once strapped on a revolver and bowie knife and decided to go after the fleeing pair and make a rapid end of their honeymoon, but his friends advised him to have them arrested for larceny. He accordingly swore out a complaint and officer Patterson went down to Chinatown and found the Mongol who had taken the trunk. The trunk was in his possession, but he had orders to meet the couple at the incline. The officer and Garavito took a team and started after Bartlett, expecting to find him at the incline. At the present writing they have not returned.

Charles Mack.

When the votes are counted Charles Mack will think a cyclone struck him. What a presumption in a small caliber lawyer like Mack to run for District Judge, and against a jurist of national reputation, such as Rising.—Tribune.

No Silver paper has made any disparaging allusions to Judge Rising and the APPEAL was in hope to be able to go through the campaign without any attacks on either side upon the judicial ticket. The Republican papers have however unwittingly opened the ball on Charles Mack, and before the campaign closes the APPEAL proposes to show just what claims Judge Rising has on the people of this district, and also what claims his Silver opponent has.

Mr. Charles Mack, Silver nominee for District Judge, has been in the city against Rising. Some of Rising's followers have expressed surprise that anyone has the temerity to run.

Mr. Mack is all the qualified in a good judge and a great deal of support. He was born in California county, Wisconsin, and educated at Evanston, Ill. He came to Nevada in 1871 and worked two years in the Savage mine. He finally concluded to study law and went to J. W. Wheeler for the U. S. District Attorney. He finished his legal education with Lewis and Clark and was admitted to the bar in 1881.

Two years ago he was placed on the Silver ticket as nominee for Representative of the University and was elected by a large majority.

He has been an active part in educational matters and says the State of Nevada what it needs is a University, which he proposed to establish, with a liberal endowment of $500,000.

He is a man with a splendid record, an acute legal mind and one who has never shown any hesitancy, ability, or betrayed his trust. He did not seek the nomination. It was tendered him by acclamation, by the delegation of the five counties comprising his judicial district. There is no doubt that he will be elected by a decisive majority and fill the office with credit to himself and satisfaction to the taxpayers.

Look at those new $8 suits at Joe Platt's. Great bargains for the money.
